Research Facility Updating Policy

Our department is committed to fostering a vibrant and productive research environment. This commitment is reflected in its efforts to regularly update research facilities and establish clear policies that support and promote research activities amongst faculty and students. To this end, the department strives to:

- Regularly upgrade existing facilities: This includes updating computer labs with the latest software with new statistical analysis packages installed, and maintaining specialized equipment used in psychological research.
- Develop specialized labs: The department is working towards developing specialized research labs focused on specific areas of psychology, such as cognitive psychology, clinical psychology, social psychology, and developmental psychology. These labs would be equipped with the necessary resources to conduct high-quality research in these areas.
- Promote resource sharing: The department encourages collaborative research efforts and promotes the sharing of resources and expertise among faculty and students.
- Seek external funding for infrastructure development: The department actively seeks external funding opportunities to enhance its research infrastructure and acquire state-of-the-art equipment.
- Policy for Promotion of Research: The department relies on the university research policy in addition to the points mentioned. (University Research Policy Attached).
